Profile

I eat, sleep, and breathe hospitality. Ever since I can remember, I have wanted to work in hospitality. I found my passion while working in my parents' restaurant when I was little. I have strong social skills and a very warm and welcoming attitude towards my patrons. However, I can also be authoritative when the situation requires it. After working for many years in a management role in the vibrant nightlife of Bucharest, I am now looking forward to taking the next step in my career. My ambition is to work in a similar management role in the high-end hospitality industry.
